Important Information

The Danny Kaspar Basketball Camp will stress fundamentals with a heavy emphasis on the skills of shooting, dribbling, passing, individual moves, and movement without the ball. We will adhere to a 10-1 camper-coach ratio which provides for a safe and well-supervised learning environment that will allow for more coach-camper interaction. Our 2.5-1 camper-ball ratio will allow for more hands-on opportunities for each camper to learn the fundamentals of basketball. Our daily schedule includes a good mix of drills, contests, team practice, and games, which allows for a fun-filled learning experience. During team play, movement without the ball, team offense, and team defense will be emphasized. Knowledgeable and personable coaches will be hired to work with the camp participants.

PAYMENT: A $75 deposit is required to ensure enrollment. Full payment is accepted and encouraged to speed up your registration process. For the June 23-26 camp, resident campers must submit a $75 dorm/key deposit. This amount must be paid separately with cash or check made payable to Danny Kaspar. This deposit will be refunded the week after camp if the room key is turned in and no dorm room charges are assessed to you.

CANCELLATIONS: There will be a $35 processing fee for cancellations before the late fee deadline. All cancellation fees after the late fee deadline will result in forfeiture of the full $75 deposit. No refunds will be given after camp has begun.

Non-resident campers will receive lunch and dinner Monday and Tuesday. Day campers will receive lunch Monday and Tuesday. The Jowers Center has two full-court regulation gyms located inside its facilities. This will be the main facility for camp. Additional gyms will be added if needed.
